Most Daring and Largest Postoffice Robbery in History of U. S.

620 Worth of Postage Stamps.

DRILL STEEL VAULT

Chicago, Oct. 21.—One of the boldest and most successful post office robberies in the history of the United States was committed last night when one of the three great vaults in the local post office was entered and from fifty to seventy-five thousand dollars' worth of stamps stolen. The job resembles the Selby smelter robbery in California in that access to the vault was gained through a tunnel dug from the lake front side of the building to the bottom of the great steel case.

An eighteen inch hole was then drilled into the vault. Through the entrance thus effected the robbers helped themselves to the valuable contents, loading the loot on a wagon and getting away undiscovered. Scores of detectives have been placed on the case. They are working on the theory that persons thoroughly acquainted with the building perpetrated the robbery. A number of post office employees are under surveillance.

Ninety seven holes had been drilled in one of the plates in the bottom of the vault and an aperture of two by three feet made.

The robbery was not discovered until late this morning when the cashier opened the vault. He found a box over the hole. Upon the box were a number of finger marks which the detectives believe will aid them in hunting down the criminals.

It is thought that the work of drilling the holes began at least three days ago and that the men perpetrated the job without discovery is considered marvelous. Hundreds of men worked on the floor in which the vaults are located and policemen constantly patrolled inside and outside of the building. A watchman was stationed not over twenty feet from the robbers' place of exit.

It is believed that the real objective of the robbers was for the cash vault in which half a million in cash was stored but that in the darkness they mistook the stamp vault for the great treasure box.

WOULD MURDER PRESIDENT.

Stankoe Fights Policemen Who Capture
Him at Mount Vernon, N. Y.

Mount Vernon, N. Y., Oct. 21.—"I was sent here by God to be sworn in as President of the United States and to kill President Roosevelt. I dined with God this afternoon and he is watching my acts." This is what an 18-year-old insane man who is locked up in the Mount Vernon police station raves at intervals. He was arrested while making wild utterances in the streets and the efforts of several officers were required to overpower him. He is believed to be demented, but nothing is known as to his identity.

Five Men Hurled Into Debris by Breas-ing of a Ladder.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Five firemen standing on the top rungs of a thirty-five foot ladder and attempting to check a fierce blaze that was sweeping through the building below them, were flung to the ground by the breaking of the ladder and were with difficulty rescued from the burning mass of debris in which they fell. The names of the men are: Charles Barnes, pipe-man; legs badly sprained and feet cut; Lieutenant James Carroll; bruised about head and body; William Kelley; scalp wound, body severely lacerated and left hand cut; John Zimmerman; bruised about face and head. The building was a total loss. The contents, consisting of a large stock of raw leather and made-up goods, were valued at $70,000 and the building itself at $40,000. The building was owned by Drainage Trustee Frank Wenter.

THE CELEBRATION AT YALE OPENS

Magnificent Decoration of the City of New Haven—People Are Pouring in from All Parts.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 21.—The first day of the Yale bicentennial religious services in Battel chapel and in several of the other leading churches of the city. The Rev. Joseph Twitchell delivered the sermon at Battel chapel. In the afternoon the Rev. Prof. Park gave a Christian theology and missions.

Every incoming train and boat today brought numerous graduates and distinguished visitors to the celebration and New Haven is crowded with people. From one end of the city to the other a mass of blue greeted the eye and nothing has been spared in the way of decorations to make the bicentenary a success.

The Ives-Chenery memorial gateway was dedicated this morning and in the afternoon President Hanley will deliver the address of welcome to the guests of the university. Responses will be made by the delegates from universities and colleges from all over the world. Archbishop Ireland arrived today from St. Paul.

Besides the elaborate decorations there is an extensive scheme for the illumination of the green. About seven acres are lighted with intermittent electric lights of various colors. The flag pole forms the radiant point and the trolley poles and elms act as a basis for festoons and pendants.

MISS STONE WAS TAKEN ELSEWHERE

Brigands Have Changed Her Location and Also the Place to Make Payment.

Constantinople, Oct. 21.—The hill on the Bulgarian frontier where Miss Stone was supposed to be imprisoned by brigands is found to be inaccessible. The brigands were seen on another mountain near by and two hundred Bulgarian troops chased them but without avail. It is learned that the later appearance of the brigands was but a ruse to divert the attention of the pursuers while Miss Stone was taken elsewhere.

The kidnapped woman is now reported to be in a peasant hamlet in the environs of Elechnitzau. The brigands have changed the place for the payment of the ransom. They have notified Consul General Dickinson that the money must be paid at Starichichtox, a Bulgarian village in eastern Macedonia.

FILIPINO PLOT IS FRUSTRATED; ARREST OF EIGHTY CONSPIRATORS

Frustrated by a Priest, and the Plans Were Carefully Laid—Bolomen in Ambush for American Troops—Horrible Slaughter Averted.

Manila, Oct. 21.—Owing to the vigilance of Lieutenant Thomas M. Baines, Jr., of the Ninth United States Infantry, another slaughter of American troops by insurgents has been averted. It seems that Lieutenant Baines discovered a prisoner re-entering a cell at Carabiga, Island of Samar, where several were confined, through a hole that had been let in the wall.

An investigation showed a plan to fill the jail with bolomen and to call the guard, which would be necessary to get the door open and then to attack the garrison. It also developed that the instigators were a priest and the presidente, both of whom have been arrested, together with several other prominent persons.

Other attempts have been discovered by fortunately frustrated at Pambujan and other points in Samar. Several persons have been arrested in connection with these.

Reinforcements are being rushed to Samar. Three hundred and thirty marines, under Lieutenant Colonel

RICHEST BABY IN THE WHOLE WORLD

John Nicholas Brown Arrives From Europe, Attended by a Large
Retinue of Servants.

New York, Oct. 21.—John Nicholas Brown, who has just arrived in this country from Europe, is the richest baby in the world. A special car carried him to Newport where he will spend the winter. He was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Elled Nicholas Brown, and his aunt, Mrs. Harold Brown, and was attended by a retinue of servants.

Baby Brown inherited $6,000,000 from his father, who died last year. Two weeks later, Harold Brown, his uncle died and left him $4,000,000. This will double his aggregate $20,000,000 by the time he is of age. The vast fortune will be entirely in his own name.

It required eleven trunks for the wardrobe of the multi-millionaire infant. Two trained nurses, a skilled physician and a valet accompanied the party. It is said of his wardrobe that it is the most extensive ever carried by any male person on a sea voyage. It contained an assortment of lace trimmed frocks and dresses.

On the steamer from Europe the baby's meals were selected from special materials brought on board by his mother, and were prepared by a special steward. For the most part, Master Brown had sterilized milk and chicken broth, varying his diet occasionally with wholesome dainties. The trip benefited him and he returns to his home in Newport ruddy and strong. Although he has a town house, a palace on the Hudson and a yacht he will spend some time to come in his nursery at Newport.

Farm, Ten Miles, This Morning to Go to Work.

Governor La Follette appeared at the executive office in the capitol this afternoon for the first time since his illness began over four months ago, having ridden in ten miles this morning from the Fox farm, ten miles out, where he has been recuperating. ATTEMPTS AT KIDNAPING.

Residents at Kenton, Ohio, Aroused by Efforts to Steal Children.

Kenton, Ohio, Oct. 21.—Considerable apprehension has been aroused here by a bold attempt to kidnap 6-year-old Bert Smith, son of the agent of the United States Express Company. This is the second attempt of the kind in this city within a short time, an attempt having been made two weeks ago to carry off 7-year-old Harvey Ballard. Gypsies were blamed for that offense. The latest attempt was by a stranger, who tried to lure the youngster away from the public street by showing him pictures, and then tried to pick him up in his arms. The boy managed to break loose and ran. The father gave chase to the stranger, but the latter made good his escape.

CITY SHAKEN BY EXPLOSION.

One Man Killed in Mysterious Occurrence in Marietta, Ohio.

Marietta, Ohio, Oct. 21.—The entire city was badly shaken by a terrific explosion at the machine shops of Pattin Bros. & Co. The entire building was in flames in a few minutes. The building of the Marietta Transfer and storage company was soon ablaze, but it was saved. The Pattin shop was completely demolished. The explosion is a mystery. D. P. Pattin, one of the principal owners, smelled gas and remarked that he was going to find the leak. Taking some matches he entered the building. The explosion followed in about two minutes, and the supposition is that he lighted a match. He was killed. After the fire was under control former Fire Chief A. D. Albermar entered the building, yet afire, at the risk of his life, and took the body, which was burned beyond recognition, out of the building. The loss is more than $20,000, with $12,000 insurance.

THEY WILL MEET AT TABLE AGAIN

President Roosevelt and Booker T.
Washington to Dine Together at New Haven.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 21.—President Roosevelt will not make any change in his policy of meeting on friendly terms colored leaders when he wishes. He will sit on the same platform here next Wednesday morning with Booker T. Washington, who dined with him in the White House last week.

It is understood that Mr. Washington and President Roosevelt will eat together again on Wednesday evening in the home of President Hadley of Yale. Both have been invited to break bread at the home of the Yale president, and only the unexpected absence of either Mr. Washington or President Roosevelt will prevent a repetition of the circumstances which called forth the inflammatory editorials in southern newspapers last week.

Mr. Washington arrived last night. Especial honor is shown to him in being the personal guest of Prof. John C. Schwab, head of the department of political economy and chairman of the general bicentenary committee. He arrived last night at Prof. Schwab's home in Prospect hill, within a stone's throw of the Farnam home, where Roosevelt will be quartered.

Prof. Schwab spent much of his life in the south and generally is regarded as distinctly southern in his sympathies. He is the author of a history of the confederacy.

WM. M'KINLEY OAK WILL BE PLANTED

Mrs. Roosevelt will remain in Washington. The party will be met at the station and the president will be at once escorted to the Cowles residence, about two miles from the station. In the afternoon the town has arranged for the planting of a white oak tree on the green.

This will take place at 2:30 and it is the plan to have the president throw the first shovel of earth around the roots of the tree, which will be known as the McKinley oak. The girls from Miss Porter's school will assist in the ceremony. There will be a reception at the residence of Mrs. Cowles from 3:30 to 5 o'clock.

The president will leave for New Haven at 8:10 o'clock Wednesday morning and arrive there at 9:25. During the president's stay here he will be guarded by twenty special constables, who have been appointed by the first selectman, A. S. Wadsworth. BRIGANDS STILL ELUDE PURSUIT

American Agents Unable to Find Ab-
ductors of Miss Ellen Stone
In Order to Pay Ransom.

Constantinople, Oct. 21.—The United States legation in Constantinople is still without definite news from either the Rev. H. C. Haskell or the Rev. J. W. Baird of the Congregational mission at Samakov, Bulgaria, who have been endeavoring to get in touch with the abductors of Miss Ellen Stone in order to arrange for the paying of the ransom. Mr. Baird, who was at Djubahalo, has returned to Samakov, indicating his failure on the Turkish side. All efforts will now be concentrated on the Bulgarian side.

The marriage of William P. Malone and Margaret L. Burke will take place Tuesday morning at 7:30 o'clock at St. Mary's church. Both the young people are well-known in this city and have a host of friends who will extend congratulations.

ROMANCE ENDS IN A TRAGEDY

Two Lovers Drain Poison
Vials, But the Man
Survives.

END LIFE FOR LOVE

Chicago Dentist and Wife of
Another Man Make a
Compact for Suicide.

CAUSED BY REMORSE

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 21.—In despair over their hopeless love for one another two prominent Chicagoans deliberately planned to die yesterday afternoon in double suicide. One, the woman, and the wife of another, was found cold and lifeless. The other, the husband of a trusting companion, is still alive and in the hands of the police having been snatched from the very verge of death, a hat pin piercing his neck from side to side, a bottle of morphine clutched in one hand and his nostrils inhaling the stifling fumes from six open gas jets.

The woman was Mrs. Charlotte Nichol, mother of two children and wife of W. L. Nichol, Jr., commercial agent, with headquarters in Chicago, for the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railway company. He who sought to die with her is Dr. Orville Burnette, a leading South Side dentist, whose downtown offices are in the Great Northern hotel.

Confessed the Details
He has been revived sufficiently to confess the details to the police. By appointment they had met, as was frequently arranged, Saturday morning, and separated at his office to meet again in the evening at one of the suburban railroad stations. Over the glasses that had been filled for them in several public places during the evening the woman, her companion relates, talked ceaselessly of the barrier which kept them from the continuous enjoyment of their love and insisted that nothing could dissuade her from committing suicide.

"Will you die for me and with me?" she had pleaded for hours with her lover, until he saw that he could not take her mind from her purpose. Remorse for the dual life she had been leading weighed upon her, and Dr. Burnette at last gave way to her decision.

She Left a Letter
Without registering at the hotel they went to their room and there Mrs. Nichol pinned this note with trembling hand:

"To whom it may concern: I did it because I loved him better than anything on earth and he loved me and we could not be separated. God-bye, Charlotte."

Morphine was secured, the gas turned on and the two retired, the woman saying constantly, "I am so happy. I never was so happy in my life. I could not be more contented. Death with you will be so sweet."

Some time in the morning Burnette slowly awakened, half dazed. The woman at his side murmured, "You will find the rest of the morphine on the chiffonier." The remaining portion was not sufficient to result fatally, and Burnette, recognizing the fact, used the hat pin and turned on more gas jets.

Were Lovers Long Ago

Years ago the two had been friends in Nashville, Tenn. Burnette moved to Chicago to study dentistry and the girl married. Nichol. The old love returning she induced her husband to move to Chicago, keeping her secret to herself.

Police sent out to notify the husband found no one in their South Side home save the two little children, a boy of 8 and a girl of 4. They in their practice, said their father had gone out to look for "mamma," who had not been home all the night and not all the day.

Dr. Burnette was born at Hastings, Neb., about twenty-eight years ago. He was married seven years ago to Grace Anderson also of Hastings who had been his playmate and school mate from childhood. His father was a wealthy stockman, and the young man lived in ease for years. Finally his wife urged him to take up some profession, and he decided to become a dentist.

GIDEONS CLOSE WITH A BIG RALLY; UNION SERVICES HELD LAST NIGHT

Congregational Church Packed to the Doors with a Crowd of People Interested in the Christian Work of the Traveling Men.

The Gideon rally held in the city Saturday evening and all day yesterday came to a successful close with a monster meeting at the Congregational church last evening. It was a union service and the congregations of the Methodist, Baptist, Congregational and Presbyterian churches were present to uphold the hands of the Gideons in their work for the salvation of the commercial travelers of America. It was a magnificent audience which filled the auditorium and gallery to the fullest capacity. Many people stood during the service.

On the pulpit platform were seated the gentlemen who were to participate in the meeting. A. D. Lewis, of Baraboo, state president of the Wisconsin Gideons, was the moderator and presided in a very pleasing manner. The entire meeting was conducted on evangelistic lines and bore marked resemblance to an old-fashioned revival, although the Gideons assert that they are not traveling evangelists and make no pretensions to being public speakers. They are simply Christian commercial travelers, pledged to do what they can to aid in the establishment of Christ's kingdom.

Program of the Evening
The meeting opened with an organ voluntary by Mrs. F. F. Lewis after which the large chorus sang a beautiful anthem, "Who is He that cometh from Edom?" After the chorus, John H. Nicholson, of this city, national secretary of the Gideons, offered a fervent prayer and Sam J. Lea of Elgin, Ill., one of the national counselors read the Scripture selection.

An exquisite number was furnished by a ladies' sextet, including Mrs. A. O. Wilson, Miss Cora Anderson, Mrs. Minnie Menzies, Mrs. W. S. Jeffries, Mrs. S. B. Lewis and Miss Franc Edwards. The selection chosen was an "Ave Maria" by Marchetti in which their voices blended richly and melodiously.

A brief but very cordial welcome was spoken by Rev. Robert C. Denison, who said that he occasion needed no words from him, the audience spoke its own welcome. The churches had a hearty welcome for the band of Gideons because they were soldiers of Christ and of the church, working day by day on the outposts. Their work was on the frontier where the churches possibly could not reach and was difficult and noble. The church welcomed them as soldiers coming home from royal service.

Carried Salvation Goods
The Congregational chorus choir sang "Onward Christian Soldiers," after which L. Williams, president of Camp No. 1 of Chicago Gideons, spoke briefly. He said that in their ordinary experiences as traveling men, the Gideons were not accustomed to such cordiality. It was almost too rich for their blood. They were not evangelists, they were business men. Six days in the week they sold goods and Sundays they gave them away. They represented the biggest house in existence, a house of which Christ was the head and Heaven the headquarters. The goods which they gave away was Salvation.

The present is a day of small things. A bit of lead and powder, properly adjusted in the assassin's revolver, brought death to our president and grief to eighty million people. President McKinley's words of solicitude for the assassin, his chanting "Nearer My God to Thee" were small things, but they meant a great truth, the fact that he represented the same house as the Gideons. Small things have a wonderful influence. The Gideon organization may seem a small thing in a town but its effect has reached all over this country. In the army, nearly 1,800 of the boys wear the Gideon button. A kind look, a handshake count for many things and the wearing of the Gideon button often has a mighty influence.

The audience next enjoyed a lullaby beautifully played by Oscar Hakerson, violin; F. F. Lewis, cello; and Mrs. F. F. Lewis, organ.

Business of Traveling Men
W. H. Teetzel of Chicago, a national counselor, spoke of the contrast between the business of traveling now and twenty-five years ago when he started on the road. At that time it was a dangerous place to put a young man in. It was a common thing on Saturday night to see four or five commercial travelers going home drunk. It used to be thought necessary for a man to drink to sell goods but it is not so now. Today, where there is one drunken man on the road you will see fifty Christians, where there is one bad man there is a much larger number of Gideons. The road is a great place to do Christian work and while there have always been Christian traveling men, the Gideon organization brings them together and enables them to do more effective work. Since the speaker joined the order, one year ago last March, he felt that he had done more than ever before. The world wants more Christians who will take Christ with them every day. It needs, earnest, enthusiastic, untiring Christians who are always willing to say a word for their Master.

Best Day of His Life
Charles H. Palmer of Chicago, one of the national superintendents, is quite an eloquent speaker and he said that without exaggeration the day just closing has been the best day of his life. He had gained a new glimpse of the Christ, a fresh inspiration from the gathering together of the Gideons. He wondered what it had meant to the rest of the people. If it had not brought a message to them then their coming had been in vain. The message which the Gideons would bring was the message of Jesus, "Come." No message is so fraught with sweetness for humanity.

The "come" of Jesus is spoken in many ways. Once he says "Come now and let us reason together." Christianity must be a reasonable thing. The speaker had belonged to an infidel society and been its presiding officer for ten years. They called themselves truth seekers; they should have been called truth dodgers for every time the truth showed its head they ran. Mr. Palmer said he was not going to preach a sermon but his heart was full of the message which was thrown out everywhere as the life line of hope. The speaker then cited several of the Bible invitations in which the word "come" is used and made brief remarks on each verse.

Fred Woodcock, of Chicago, then sang "No, Never Alone," playing his own accompaniment on the guitar. He prefaced the song with a pathetic story of how he had tested Christ's promise never to leave him alone during a time of deepest affliction. Tears flowed from many eyes during the story and the singing of the beautiful song which followed it. The Gideons joined in the final chorus and then the audience was requested to sing and the song closed effectively.

Moment of Silent Prayer

After two minutes of silent prayer, Frank A. Garlick of Chicago, who is superintendent of the state work in Michigan, spoke briefly, using as the central thought for his remarks the incident in the life of Jacob when he returned to see his brother Esau and went apart to be alone. He wanted to be alone because he had sinned and had been surrounded with unwholesome things. He had not been alone long when a man came and wrestled with him until the breaking of day and Jacob received God's blessing. Sinners find a time when they want to be alone and if they obey the message of their hearts God will not leave them alone long. The speaker then asked those sinners who desired to be alone with God and to find him to raise their hands. Eight hands were raised and when he asked those who were Christians to testify to the fact by standing, the great audience rose to its feet, leaving but very few people seated.

The service closed with the pretty ceremony of the Gideons joining hands in the Gideon circle while everyone joined in singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." The audience then stood with bowed heads while Rev. J. T. Henderson pronounced the benedictory prayer.

Other Rally Services.
The other services of the rally were carried out according to the program and all were largely attended. The campfire at the Presbyterian church Saturday night was one of the best of the meetings. National President S. E. Hill of Beloit, was the moderator, a cordial address of welcome was given by A. E. Matheson and National Vice President R. L. Adams responded very happily. L. Williams told of the work in Chicago and of the great good which the organization is doing and S. E. Hill and Charles H. Palmer spoke enthusiastically of the Gideon outlook. Much interest was added to the meeting by the excellent musical program which included vocal solos by Mrs. E. J. Carroll, Miss Maybell Angell and Col. E. O. Kimbly and a violin solo by Oscar Hakerson. Rev. R. C. Denison offered the invocation and Rev. R. M. Vaughan pronounced the benediction.

The consecration meeting at the First M. E. church yesterday morning at nine o'clock at which W. H. Teetzel was moderator, was a veritable love feast and was a happy beginning for a day which was one of almost continuous services. After the consecration meeting the Gideons attended morning service at the several churches. National President S. E. Hill, of Beloit, and W. H. Teetzel of Chicago, spoke at the Congregational church; Frank A. Garlick, of Chicago, and Sam J. Lea of Elgin, at the Baptist church; A. Anthony, of Des Moines, Ia.; and E. C. Beebe, of Monmouth, Ill.; at the Presbyterian church; National Vice President R. L. Adams, of Madison, and Fred Woodcock, of Chicago, at the First M. E. church and L. Williams and C. H. Palmer, both of Chicago, at the Court street M. E. church.

The men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. building at 3 o'clock was one of the most inspiring services of the rally and one which the Gideons valued most highly. Frank A. Garlick, of Chicago, presided and the music included selections by the Y. M. C. A. orchestra and a song by Fred Woodcock. Brief addresses were made by F. A. Garlick, W. H. Teetzel, C. H. Palmer and other Gideons. During the service, seven men of this city announced their intention of leading the Christian life in the future.

Another interesting meeting was the union young peoples' meeting which was held at the Baptist church at 5:30 o'clock, in which the Young Peoples' Societies of Christian Endeavor and Epworth Leaguers of the city joined. L. Williams, of Chicago, was the leader and the service was an impressive one of prayer, testimony and song. A solo by Fred Woodcock and a selection of the Bower City male quartet was much enjoyed. At the close of the service the young people adjourned to the Congregational church to attend the closing session of the rally.

FOOTBALL GAMES PLAYED SATURDAY

Nothing Decisive Developed to Point Out Championship Team—Badgers Are Gaining.

From the results of Saturday's football games, many of which were surprises, it seems that the present schedules of the leading western teams may again fail to develop a championship team.

The two big games of the day—the Illinois-Chicago and the Michigan-Northwestern contests—put both of the local varieties out of the running at least temporarily. This leaves Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois and Michigan undefeated among the "big nine." Minnesota meets Wisconsin and Iowa, and Iowa meets both Illinois and Michigan. However, as the Wolverines do not try conclusions with any of the big teams now except Chicago and Iowa, the only way for a championship to be definitely settled now is for both Iowa and Michigan to go through the season undefeated until their Thanksgiving day contest.

It was unfortunate that the teams which have not been generally conceded as the strongest had not real try-outs Saturday. Plucky little Knox surprised Wisconsin by scoring a touchdown on a blocked kick and held King's men to twenty-three points, but as Coach Williams and several Minnesota players were on the field the reported weakness of the Badgers may be taken with a grain of salt. Other games in the west were of comparatively little significance.

In the East, West Point gave Harvard a great surprise, as did Bucknell at Penn., but the others of the "big four" had little trouble. Dartmouth won a very lucky game from Williams in the triangular league and Amherst and Trinity had their annual tie contest.

Mary Kimball Denies It

If the police were not sleeping last Friday night they must have been dreaming or some malicious person must have wrongly informed them regarding an effort having been made by me to rescue Ray Maraden from the hands of the law. If such an effort has been made by any person, it is all unbeknownst to me. Sheriff Maltress knows whether he was intercepted at Jefferson Junction or not and no doubt will come forward and say as to whether there is any truth in the assertion or not. As to Attorney Ryan and Mahoney, I will say that I have no acquaintance with the gentlemen, and do not know them when I meet the man the street.

Now then, in order to satisfy the curiosity of the person, who seems to delight in slandering the character of woman, I will say that I spent Friday evening until nine o'clock in the Rock county jail with my nephew, and the remainder of the night at the home of my brother, who, together with his wife met me on Milwaukee street.

SCHLEY CASE NEAR CLOSE

Admiral Will Take the Stand Late in the Week.

WILL TELL STORY THURSDAY.

Captain Clarke of the Oregon will be a star witness—Importance of Chief Machinist Hunley's Testimony—Belief in Vindication of Schley.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 21.—Admiral Schley will conclude his defense during the present week. He expects to take the stand himself not later than Thursday. His flag lieutenant, B. W. Wells, Jr., will resume his testimony tomorrow morning. Inasmuch as Lieutenant Wells' story covers the entire scope of the operation of the flying squadron, he will doubtless be on the stand all day. Captain Clarke of the Oregon will follow Lieutenant Wells. His story of the battle of Santiago is expected to be one of the star recitals of the inquiry. It will be full and complete, covering every incident of that great engagement from the time the first gun was fired until the Oregon and Brooklyn forced the Cristobal Colon to run for the beach. The navy department had hoped to secure Captain Clarke as their witness, believing that he was willing to add to the slanders which the department invoked against the admiral. They found, however, that Captain Clarke's story was wholly in favor of Admiral Schley and refused to put him on the stand.

Captain Cook's appearance on the stand, although called by the department, was the real beginning of Admiral Schley's defense. Every fair-minded man who heard the captain testify said that the last vestige of doubt as to Admiral Schley's conduct during the war had been removed. Other witnesses from the Brooklyn and Oregon have not only completely corroborated Captain Cook, but have furnished other evidence in favor of Admiral Schley. Ensign Marble flatly contradicted Captain Sigbee regarding the latter's communication to Schley off Santiago just before the retrograde movement was ordered. Ensign McCauley, who was the signal officer of the Brooklyn, made it clear by reading the signals exchanged after the close of the battle with Sampson that the conspiracy to destroy Schley was hatched on board the New York on the afternoon of July 3, 1898. The most sensational disclosure, involving as it does the belief that perjury and subordination of perjury were committed, was brought about through the appearance of Chief Machinist Hunley as a witness. Nobody in Washington who has followed the proceedings of the court from day to day has the slightest doubt of what the verdict will be or that Admiral Schley will be fully vindicated by his brothers in arms.

AMBASSADOR CHOATE HOME.

Has Reached New York—Levi P. Morton Also Arrives.

New York, Oct. 21.—Joseph H. Choate, United States ambassador to Great Britain; former Vice President Levi P. Morton, and Gen. Francis V. Greene were passengers on board the steamer Philadelphia, which has arrived here from Southampton. Mr. Choate was met at the steamship pier by his law partner, A. W. Evarts, and for a few minutes they walked up and down the pier talking. After the ambassador's baggage had been passed by the customs officials the party hastened away from the pier. Mr. Choate was unwilling to discuss the reasons for his return home or to talk about the Isthmian canal treaty. He said: "I cannot talk about this matter, nor would it be right for me to discuss possible treaties or the canal question. I have had a most delightful trip across and have enjoyed myself very much. I shall remain here until New Year's, and, of course, shall go to Washington to confer with the president and Secretary Hay. I shall not go to Washington for a few days."

A number of other questions regarding England's attitude on the canal question were asked the ambassador, but to all of them he smilingly gave the same reply; that he would not discuss his affairs. Mr. Evarts, who left the pier after the ambassador's family had driven away, said that the ambassador had gone to catch an early train for his summer home at Stockbridge, Mass.

Thinks Outlaws Are Dispersed.

New York, Oct. 21.—Concerning the case of Miss Ellen M. Stone, the missing missionary, the Rev. George D. Marsh cables from Samokov: "After twenty-nine years' experience in Bulgaria, during which I won the sobriquet 'Bulgarian Atrocities,' my knowledge of the brigands leads me to believe they are widely dispersed and Miss Stone is quietly sequestered in some mountain village, of which the villagers, partly in sympathy, partly in fear, would scorn to tell the authorities. Modern brigands are sorry successes. They are chivalrous cut-throats who believe that if they harmed a damsel they would die in a Turkish prison. A Turkish minister is credited with the flippant though expressive saying: 'The kidnapping of another American woman would bankrupt the Ottoman empire.'"

Hackett to Retire.
Washington, Oct. 21.—Frank W. Hackett, assistant secretary of the navy, will ask to be relieved from that office shortly. He will resume his law practice in Washington.

FAMINE FUND IS MISSING.

Chinese Officials 'Accused' of Taking Money Raised in This Country.

Shanghai, Oct. 21.—Evidence is at hand that the vast sum of money collected in the United States less than a year ago for the relief of famine sufferers in the district of Shensi, China, has gone no further than the pockets of Chinese officials, at the head of whom is Li Hung Chang. The China Times, a leading newspaper of the empire, makes the accusation direct, and calls upon American papers to inform the Americans how their charity is being diverted from its intended channel. The money collected for the Shensi sufferers was sent to the Rev. Timothy Richards and the Rev. Arthur Smith, missionaries of high standing. A part of the money was turned over to Chinese officials, who, under a strong military escort, started for the famine-stricken district. Whether the money ever reached its destination is not known. Shortly following its departure, however, an official pronouncement was issued announcing that rain had fallen in the stricken district and that the need for further relief was at an end. The next step of the officials is told in a paragraph published by the Shanghai New Press. It reads:

"In consequence of the approaching return of the court, His Eminence Li Hung Chang has deputed Pau Taotai to Shanghai with orders to buy various articles to be used inside the palace. The money will be temporarily drawn from the famine relief fund of Shensi Province." The Right Rev. Francis R. Graves, bishop of Shanghai, said he was not surprised at the charges made by the Times. "You can rest assured that if Li Hung Chang has possession of the money that is the end of it," said he. "There is really no need for the contributions. China has plenty of money and plenty of grain to feed the hungry. This money was raised in New York by the Christian Herald. It was quite unnecessary and there was considerable talk about it. I do not recall the exact sum, but it was quite large."

Trust Covers Two Nations.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 21.—The understanding that yesterday's meeting of sulphate manufacturers of the United States and Canada here was for the purpose of combining their interests has been confirmed. The new concern is to be known as the United Box, Board and Paper Company, and will be capitalized at about $10,000,000. This will be represented by preferred stock, which will be given the owners of the several paying plants. The valuation is to be based upon the average earning capacity of the mills for the past three years. Unproductive mills will be paid for in common stock.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 21.—New England's building at the Pan-American exposition was destroyed by fire. The contents, including of rich furnishings of historic value, costly oil paintings and other articles of great value, were also entirely destroyed. The building cost $30,000, and the loss of the contents is estimated at $100,000. The fire was discovered at 11:10 o'clock, and an hour later the building was in ashes. The structure was one of the finest of the so-called state buildings on the exposition grounds.

Threaten to Seize Office.

Brainerd, Minn., Oct. 21.—Deputy United States Marshal Joseph Langdon arrived here, having in custody two Indians, John and Thomas Garbo. Though he was threatened with being scalped he made the arrest. The deputy marshal claims there are about sixty cases of smallpox among the Indians. The Garbos attacked him and other members of the party stood ready to back them up. They are charged with breaking quarantine and resisting an officer.

Soldier Will be Hanged.

Washington, Oct. 21.—George A. Raymond, an American and formerly private in the Forty-first volunteer infantry, was tried by military commission in the Philippines a while ago on a triple charge of murder, rape and robbery, and sentenced to be hanged. The records in this case of unusual depravity have just been received at the war department.

Appointed by the President.

Washington, Oct. 21.—The President has made the following appointments: State—George Sawyer of New York. United States Consul at Antigua, West Indies. Navy—Joseph G. Eaton, captain; Harry Knox, captain; George W. Ments, commander; Nathan Sargent, commander; John B. Milton, commander; Charles C. Marsh, lieutenant commander.

Can Dress Well on $300.

Washington, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Roosevelt was discussing her winter toilet with a friend and remarked that any woman with common sense could be well dressed on $300 a year. The mistress of the White House further explained that hitherto she had never spent that a year, but she supposed a greater outlay would now be necessary.

STEAMER SINKS IN RIVER

City of Cleveland Carrying 176 Passengers Wrecked.

ALL ON BOARD ARE RESCUED.

Boat Strikes a Rock or Sunk Anchor and Speedily Goes Down in Shallow Water a Few Miles Below Detroit—Exciting Scenes.

Detroit, Oct. 21.—The big steel passenger steamer City of Cleveland, carrying 176 passengers from Cleveland to this city, sunk in shallow water in the Detroit river at 6 o'clock a. m. There were exciting scenes, bordering upon panic, among the passengers, but all were taken off in safety. A majority of them were at breakfast when the boat struck some obstacle in the stream, presumably a rock or a sunk anchor. There was a wild rush for the stairs, and some of the half-clad passengers, late in leaving their cabins, were forced to wade through a foot of water. Those fortunate enough to first reach places of safety lent willing hands and their companions were lifted and dragged out of the dining room and continued dressing in the open air. The captain and crew restored order by assurances that the boat was in shallow water and that there was no danger. The passengers flocked to the upper decks, and after the steamer slowly settled down to the bottom patiently waited until they were taken ashore by the steamer Newsboy, which responded to distress signals.

Commanded by a Veteran.

The City of Cleveland is a steel side-wheeler, and is counted among the best passenger steamers on the lakes. She left Cleveland at 10:15 p. m. for Detroit, in command of Captain Archie McLachlan, one of the veterans of the service. After entering Detroit river fog settled down on the water, and Captain McLachlan anchored his ship when just above the Lime Kilns Crossing to avoid all chance of a collision with passing craft. About 5:30 o'clock the fog lifted and the steamer started on her way again. It was noticed that water was coming into her hold. The break was apparently near the paddle wheels, and the way in which the water gained on the pumps showed that the hole in the boat's bottom was a bad one. Captain McLachlan at once headed the Cleveland for the shallow water near the shore on the Canadian side, and beached the boat in a favorable position.

Will be Raised at Once.

The steamer now lies on a rocky bottom and broadside to the river. The wrecker Saginaw has been dispatched to the scene and the work of raising the Cleveland will be begun at once. The hole in the bottom plating will be stopped by divers, and steam pumps will then take the water out of the hold, after which tugs will pull the steamer off the shore. The steamer City of Alpena of the same line was sent down the river in the afternoon to recover the cargo of the Cleveland. Until the Cleveland is able to resume her route the Alpena will take her place on the run. Since the days of early navigation on the lakes vessels have anchored in the rivers on account of fog and bad weather, and several big anchors have been lost.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Generally fair tonight and Tuesday.

"WHAT SHALL I SAY?"

At the annual meeting of the Southwestern Iowa Editorial association held at Red Oak, Ia., last Friday, Howard W. Tilton, editor of the Nonpareil, delivered an address on the subject, "What Shall I Say?" from which the following excerpts are made:

But when that inexorable cry for "Copy" sounds, ours not to reason why—ours but to do or die, and as the tired hand picks up the dulled pencil there arises before one's vision like a nightmare that everlasting interrogation point with its shoulders bent under the great burden of doubt—"What shall I say?"

The two essentials to success in newspaper work are for one to know everything he says, but not to say everything he knows. If the pen is mightier than the sword, knowledge is mightier than the pen, and it needs to be handled more carefully than either.

There is no calling or profession in which one needs to be more cautious about knowing what he tells and about telling what he knows. The preacher can claim that his hearer's ear was dull, the lawyer can blame the jury and the court, and can demand a rehearing; the doctor can say it was heart failure, and have his mistake soon buried and the grass growing over it; the teacher can erase the chalk marks from the board; but when a newspaper man makes a mistake in answering the question: "What shall I say?" his bridges are burned behind him and his files are not for the printed leaves with their roof in black and white have been scattered hither and yon, and are in the hands of foes as well as friends.

The bookkeeper can correct his footing and possibly not even his employer may be the wiser. The merchant may make good the flaw found in the dress pattern and only the one customer may ever share the knowledge with him. The mechanic, when he blunders, may saw another board or put putty in the crack but when an error creeps into the paper every reader within at least a Sabbath day's journey of the office hastens to call the editor's attention to it.

So when the empty copy book appears to you to say something, and the doubting pencil is poised over the blank sheet, better that the copy book stay empty and the pencil stay poised, and the sheet stay blank, until you know what you are saying, and say what you are knowing.

The greatest minds have sometimes failed to know themselves. Tennyson was not content with the sweet music of his harp and sought to lay it aside to put on the mask and strut of the stage, and so instead of a poem he put forth his play, "Queen Mary," but despite all the rich settings which wealth and royalty lavished upon it the heart of the world turned away from it and begged the great poet to give them another song instead. George Eliot never knew herself well enough to realize her mission was to write fiction and not philosophy and prose instead of poetry, and so she was ever and again blotting her pages with the tears of her disappointment. So it is not to be wondered at that we of less keen intuitions and of feebler gifts often make the mistake of trying to write jests when we are better fitted for inscribing tombstones; of pluming the wings of our imagination for a lofty flight when we are better fitted for welding on the anvil; of putting our thoughts in reason's cold storage when they are more like tender plants which need to be set out in the sunshine for the emotions and impulses to stir their blossoms and leaves like passing breezes.

There is no calling in life that requires more varied and more accurate knowledge of one's self and of one's fellows than that in which we are engaged. The preacher looks after a man's creed, the doctor after his aches, the tailor after his back, the grocer his stomach, the banker his pocketbook, the politician after his vote, but the newspaper man has to tell him how to vote, how to invest his money, what to eat and to wear, how to cure his aches, tell him what the law is and what it ought to be, and even be the guideboard to stand and point to him the road to heaven.

One should know books, too, for unless we know books we cannot know men. For books are after all simply men, canned and pickled and preserved. One needs not only to know what men are doing and thinking, but what they have done and thought. What you say must depend largely on what you know, and what you know depends largely on what you read, and your reading should be both of the printed as well as the living pages of life. It should be reading, not skimming. Don't be content with casting your eyes over the titles and the headlines, simply reading the introduction, whether it is a man or a book that you have in hand.

One too, should know the field in which he is toiling. There is no use to try to run a great primer paper in a little agate town any more than to stock a fresh water pond with salt water fish. One should know what his readers will take hold of, and what will take hold of his readers. Many make the mistake of writing for the benefit of their exchanges instead of for the benefit of their subscribers. Editors often get so busy talking over the table with their fellows, exchanging jokes, thrusting and parrying, pointing out each other's faults, quarreling over personalities and swearing at a rival's circulation while swearing to his own, as to forget that there are subscribers clamoring for the goods for which they have paid, or at least have promised to pay. A kind word said by a reader is a richer reward than a compliment tossed to you over the exchange table in return for some equally meaningless one you have at some time tossed to your brother editor. So, too, an honest criticism voiced by a careful reader is much more helpful than the vindictive thrust of an envious rival.

Write for your readers and not for your exchanges. Write about what will interest your subscribers instead of what will interest your brother editors. Write about not only what your readers are interested in, but what they ought to be interested in. There is little use in discussing navigation if they live so far inland that they never see anything more like a ship than a prairie schooner, or paying assessments when there are nothing but dirt roads within miles, or to tell them how to pick cotton when they are busy shelling corn.

But one should know not only what is going on in the community, but what ought to be going on. He should not be merely a chronicler, but a promoter. He should not only be a historian, but a prophet. He should not only tell of the old road, but point out the new one. He should not only record achievements, but picture possibilities. He should not only follow events, but lead events. He should not only reflect public opinion, but mould it.

Simplicity is the lever that moves the earth, after all. It is the hand that rocks the cradle that rules the world. He who writes the songs of the people need not care who writes the laws of the nation. The whistle of a cowboy caused the name of Burns to be given a place in the poet's corner of the world's heart. The flinging on the canvas of the lights and shadows of peasant life has made the name of Millet, the peasant painter, immortal. It was the Great Preacher Himself who plucked the simple flower of the field and holding it up in hand of love bade the world "Behold the lily!" and the world is still looking and wondering. He it was who led a little child into their midst to tell puzzled philosophers the road to heaven. He made the common things of life put on uncommonness—the lost coin—the old leathern bottle—the new wine—the measure of meal—the widow's mite—such were the common things out of which he framed the brilliant settings for still more brilliant gems of truth. His life whispers the secret which every teacher of his fellows, whether in pulpit, school or press, should bend the eager ear to catch—the secret of simplicity.

THANK YOU.

"Because the editor of The Janesville Gazette, who is a stalwart, not only from principle, but from personal reasons, said: 'If there is any money in a merchant marine there is capital enough in the country to build up a fleet that would be unrivalled. If there is no profit in the enterprise, there is no reason why the people's money should be invested,' the Chicago Chronicle calls him a misfit in republican politics. The application is apt, for it is one of the aims of the republican party to ask its hirelings—or to be mild, its office holders—to take up the question of subsidy at the opening of congress and appropriate $9,000,000 a year for twenty years to the ship owners who engage in foreign trade. The position of Editor Bliss, of The Gazette, is distinctively democratic, and he is to be commended for standing by the masses instead of catering to the classes."

—Fond du Lac Reporter.

The Gazette says "Thank you," to The Reporter, and will add that the paper has been classed in the rank of conservative republican journals for half a century. It is just possible that the democratic press have discovered the fact that their party is destitute of an issue. Bryanism is practically dead, and a frantic effort is being made to hurry the carcass, if the job is completed in time to celebrate the final obsequies, a live issue will be in active demand. Just what it will be is not yet determined. The surplus is large and inviting, and may be twisted into an issue. Prosperity is universal and deserves to be checked in some way, and a change may seem desirable. Reciprocity, when magnified by eyes that are desperate, is called "Free Trade," always a democratic caddy, and this invites an issue.

The ship subsidy bill, however, is the latest. If the party can hang its faith on that kind of an issue, it is certainly hard up and deserves commiseration.

The republican party will be pleased to furnish its worthy opponents with a campaign issue, and The Gazette will suggest to its esteemed contemporaries of The Chronicle and Reporter class, that an Irishman landed at Castle Garden fresh from the Emerald Isle, some years ago, and joined the democratic party to be "agin' the government." There is always an issue as a last resort.

The Milwaukee Journal aspires to be a newspaper, and succeeds. It covers the state field well, is loyal to the commonwealth, and contributes to its prosperity. Its editorial page is sharp and caustic. If it had a party constituency, it would be loyal to it, but unfortunately for the Journal, the party that it formerly represented, is "without form and void" in the state, and The Journal is up against a bad political proposition.

For a plain, every day private citizen, Henry C. Payne commands more attention than any man in the country. He possesses the good fortune to be level headed, and his temper never gets too small, or his temper too much disturbed, to annoy him. If he should land in the cabinet some day, Wisconsin would be honored and the country benefitted.

Howard W. Tilton, editor of the Council Bluffs Nonpareil, has so many old friends among Gazette readers that the paper is pleased to reproduce some terse paragraphs from his pen, in this issue. They will be appreciated by every reader.

Life is short, but it's long enough to raise a crop of trouble. The weather is never too dry or too wet, too hot or too cold, to interfere. If your own crop is short, there is never any difficulty about borrowing of the neighbors.

The Oshkosh Northwestern commends The Gazette for fairness in discussing the next candidate for governor, believing that time should be given to exhaust every effort in the interests of harmony.

If the Gideonites are as good as the sample on exhibition yesterday, there is no deception about the goods.

Worry never won a battle or produced a smile. If you can't be happy, don't worry, and spoil another's happiness.

PRESS COMMENT.

Stoughton Hub: Wonder when Gov. Jerre Murphy intends to issue his thanksgiving proclamation.

Marquette Eagle: Dr. Fox should have that phrase of his, "the governor will be out" in about a month, stereotyped. He has used it for three months now, however, and something more definite would be acceptable.

Appleton Post: Henry Waterson aspires to be the democratic candidate or the presidency in 1904. Who is likely to be his running mate in the event of his nomination, is not as yet suggested, but it is fair to presume that the "star-eyed" goddess of reform will be so designated.

Superior Telegram: It is reported that France produces too much alcohol and now a series of prizes has been offered for any kind of an apparatus or machinery which will open a way for its greater consumption. There are people in Superior who should be entered in this contest.

Oshkosh Northwestern: President Roosevelt has already got the politicians to guessing and unless the indications fall he will prove his ability to keep congress and the entire nation on guessing. But he has taken hold in such a masterly manner that every day witnesses an increase of the confidence entertained by the people for his skill and ability.

Racine Journal: The German Emperor has of late been a liberal contributor of Wisconsin products in the tobacco line; which causes the Superior Telegram to remark that the six car loads he has had shipped from Dane County may cause him to forget some of his troubles.

Hartford Press, Rep: The course pursued by Secretary Murphy was bound to arouse suspicion of a graver state of affairs than he admitted. If he desired to guard the governor from such insinuations he has pursued precisely the wrong course. There is nothing that will disarm suspicion but frankness.

La Crosse Republican and Leader: The free trade tendencies of Mr. Stephenson's Milwaukee organ prompts the Merrill Advocate to opine that this particular sheet will soon go over bag and baggage to the popovers. Pahaw. That is nothing. The same gentleman's organ in La Crosse has been worshipping Mr. Bryan these many months.

PHILOSOPHY OF THE STREET.

When the point of a joke is mainly in the telling, the rest of it depends on who tells it.

If only the right person should, attempt a particular action; there would be no failures.

Some things can be done by law, but more are the result of enlightened common sense.

Man can make a reasonable success of life provided he does not suffer himself to grow old in business hours.

Manual labor would not be so hard if we could only persuade ourselves we were doing it for exercise. Instead of wages.—Milwaukee Journal.

Appleton Post: Kitchener is finding Gen. Botha like the Irishman's flea—"when you put your finger on him he isn't there."

Milwaukee Sentinel: Lord Kitchener's decision that cooking ranges and cabinet organs are out of place in a flying column is approved by most experts.

TOBACCO MEN TO MEET THURSDAY

Members of the Janesville Leaf Tobacco Dealers' association met at the Grand Saturday night and perfected the plans for their gathering and dinner Thursday. They are very anxious to have it understood that this is not to be a banquet but simply a dinner to which all of the dealers in the state are invited.

There is to be no fixed program. Matters of interest to the trade will be brought up and discussed and a general good time indulged in. One of the principal reasons for which the dinner was arranged was to get the dealers from other parts of the state to attend and become better acquainted.

What Detained Him? Some people have a wrong impression about Oberlin. When they look upon it as a town without relaxation and without humor they make a mistake. Oberlin men even go to horse-races—when they are away from home. One of them attended the July races in Cleveland, and when he returned he told this funny incident: "An Irishman had placed $2 on a horse, and was very jubilant, as his favorite was among the leaders in coming down the homestretch, however, his horse trailed in the rear. Leaning over the rail, he shouted to the driver, who had pulled up under the wire after the cheering: "Hay, feller, what detained ye?"

Death of Grace Eleanor Swift. Word has been received in the city of the death of Grace Eleanor Swift, the beloved wife of Ward L. Swift, who was at one time editor of The Gazette. The sad event occurred at her home in Rhinelander last Monday and the remains were taken to her former home at Rice Lake, Wis., for interment. Mrs. Swift was twenty-nine years of age and was a happy, lovable Christian woman. During the year that she resided here she made many friends who will mourn her death sincerely. Besides her husband she left one daughter seven years old and an infant son, four months old. The bereaved husband is a nephew of A. C. Swift of this city.

Mrs. Catharine Morrison Dead. Blessed relief from years of patient suffering came to Mrs. Catharine Morrison yesterday morning at 8 o'clock when she answered the summons of the death angel and passed into the peace and rest of the life eternal. Her death occurred at her home on Pine street. Deceased had been an uncompromising invalid from lung trouble for many years and a week ago she was taken with a severe attack of pneumonia, which caused her death. She had resided in this city for over forty years and during that time she made for herself a host of friends who will mourn her death and deeply sympathize with the afflicted family. Three daughters and one son are left to mourn the loss of a good mother. They are Mrs. Milton James, Misses Maggie and Nora Morrison, all of this city, and Patrick Morrison of Ottumwa, Iowa.

Funeral services will be held from St. Patrick's church tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock. The interment will be in Mount Olivet cemetery.

JANESVILLE ELECTRIC CO.

21 West Milwaukee Street.

REV. R. C. DENISON WILL NOT ACCEPT

Has Concluded to Stay in Janesville and Finish His Work—Announcement Made Yesterday.

Rev. Robert C. Denison will not accept the opportunity which has recently come to him to become pastor of one of Chicago's leading congregations. That fact is definitely settled and Rev. Denison went to Chicago this morning to make known his determination to the members of the committee who unofficially made the proposition to him by asking him if he would accept a call and assuring him that the call would be extended if he would come.

It was a happy congregation which listened yesterday morning to Rev. Denison's announcement that he intended to remain in Janesville. Ever since the news leaked out through members of the church who learned through friends in Chicago of the action of the Chicago church's committee, the membership of the local church has been deep in despair, the general impression being that Rev. Denison would certainly accept the flattering offer and that the church had no right to attempt to restrain him. The pastorate of the Chicago church not only offered a salary three times as large as Rev. Denison's salary here but would give him a position of prominence in the church and exceptional advantages for making his name one of the leading ones in the ministry of the country. It also meant a wider field of labor and the general opinion was that there was no possible chance that Mr. Denison would refuse.

It was to relieve this situation that Mr. Denison spoke to his people yesterday morning even before he had acquainted the Chicago committee with his final decision. He said that under the circumstances he felt that he ought to make a few statements especially as he did not want anything to interrupt the work which the church is doing. First he wanted to say that the opportunity which had come to him recently, had come informally and unofficially through warm personal friends. The other thing he wanted to say was that he felt towards this as towards other opportunities which had come to him from time to time since his pastorate in this city, that for the present his work was here, in and with this church.

Continuing Mr. Denison said that he was not seeking larger opportunities; he sought only to be equal to the opportunities here. For himself he had no higher personal ambition than to do God's work here to the best of his ability. There were a great many things which he had wanted to do here that he had not done and he felt himself in no position to run away and leave unfinished work. So long as in the judgment of the church and in his judgment it was best for him to stay here, he would stand in his place and give the people his best service.

In conclusion Mr. Denison said that he was proud of his citizenship in Janesville, proud of his connection with the church. His greatest hope was to unite with the people of the church in making the church an institution of inspiration and uplift to the community.

After the conclusion of the morning service the people crowded around Mr. Denison and evidenced their gratitude for his loyalty to the local church and his unselfishness in remaining with a depth of feeling that must have been a great satisfaction to him. The church is not alone in its rejoicing for Mr. Denison's influence for good is not confined by the walls of his own church and his less would be a grievous one to the entire city. Janesville could ill afford to lose a man whose broad, practical Christianity has led him to identify himself so closely with the best interests of the community. His deep sympathy for and co-operation in progressive and philanthropic movements makes him not only a forceful pastor of a church whose prosperity is due largely to his efforts and influence but a valuable citizen of a city which cannot have too many such exponents of the highest type of citizenship and manhood.

Mind Became Unbalanced

William J. Schumann, a young man twenty-five years of age, residing in the town of La Prairie was taken to Mendota hospital today for treatment. His mind became unbalanced, it is thought, from over-exertion. Last summer he acted as captain of a tug of war team and the terrible strain he was under at that time is thought to have unbalanced his mind. He was examined by Dr. Joe Whiting who advised that he be taken to Mendota where he would be given proper care and treatment.

WRIT ISSUED TO HOLD MARSDEN

Was Served on Sheriff Maltress at Jefferson—Will Be Argued Tomorrow.

Although the sheriff was served with the writ he went on to Waupun and landed both prisoners behind the walls of the prison. The writ was issued by Court Commissioner Edwin F. Carpenter. Sheriff Maltress today filed his return to the writ and the matter will be argued tomorrow morning. The district attorney contends that he service of the writ would not hold when once the sheriff and his prisoners were out of the county away from his jurisdiction.

Attorney J. L. Mahoney took an early train to Jefferson Junction Saturday morning and served a writ of habeas corpus on Sheriff Maltress when he stepped off the Madison train on his way to Waupun with Marsden and Griley.

The sheriff was notified Friday night that Marsden's relatives and friends intended getting out the writ and so took his prisoner and boarded the 12:10 train Friday night for Madison; and soon had them out of the jurisdiction of the Rock County courts.

DEATH OVERTAKES ROADMASTER BOND

Succumbs to the Injuries Received Last Wednesday by Overturning of a Railway Dump Car.

After lying for three days in unconsciousness at the Palmer Memorial hospital, Roadmaster W. W. Bond of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul company, passed into the deeper sleep of death Saturday afternoon at 3:37 o'clock. His death was the result of the peculiar railway accident on the Janesville & Southeastern division, last Wednesday morning, in which eight men were badly injured. Mr. Bond by far the most seriously. It was known from the first that the severe fracture of the skull must prove fatal, unless some miracle intervened, but he was given the very best of medical attention and Dr. Bouffleur, chief surgeon of the St. Paul company, united with Dr. J. B. Whiting, Jr., Dr. J. E. Pemberton and the nurses in an untiring effort to save his life. The injured man held his own until about seven o'clock Saturday morning when his strength began to fall steadily.

WILL ORGANIZE A GOSPEL CAMPAIGN

An Appeal to the Christian Ministers and Leaders in the United States of America.

New York, Oct. 15th.—The National Central Committee of the Twentieth Century National Gospel Campaign have today sent the following letter to the ministers and churches of the country:

To the Christian Ministers and Leaders in America:

On the 26th of December last, we sent to you our first appeal, expressing our conviction that, with the opening of the twentieth century, the hour had struck for the great forward movement of the church, through "existing organizations and agencies," and for the rousing of Christians to their God-given mission of evangelizing the nation and the world. That appeal met with wide and emphatic responses, but the mighty task of reformation has been only just begun; the crisis is still upon us, its profound character having been merely emphasized by the striking providences of the year, so that the needs and opportunities appear today vastly greater and more pressing than they did a year ago.

The tragic yet glorious Christian translation of our martyred president, William McKinley, has revealed, as under a searchlight, some things to which we need to give quick and earnest heed.

The whole world has been brought to sympathetic and intense admiration of the spectacle of the sublime faith and heroic death of a Christian martyr in one of the foremost positions of power in the world, and the record of human brotherhood has responded to the divine touch as never before. The common grief and affection have prepared for common effort for that which is highest and best; and should be taken advantage of to call all Christians to a higher and more strenuous Christian life.

The whole world has had a vision as never before of the unseen forces of evil that have in them the possibilities of national destruction; of the awful menace of the "lapsed masses" whose countless millions are practically unreached by the gospel. That vision should urge, as nothing before has ever urged, to the application of the only and divine remedy.

We appeal to you, the leaders and members of the Church of God, to gird yourselves to meet these vast responsibilities.

We earnestly and prayerfully appeal in the name of our Divine Lord, to those to whom this call is addressed, to join with us in a week of prayer and inspirational services in individual churches or groups of churches in every city, town and village in America. In order that no time may be lost in inaugurating the campaign, we would suggest that the week beginning with Sunday, November 10, be devoted to this supremely important work. While the week suggested has already been chosen as the week of prayer for young men and the work of the Young Men's Christian Association, many association leaders most heartily approve of the joint observance. For the benefit of those who may desire to avail themselves of a suggested outline of themes we offer the following:

Suggestive Program and List of Themes.

Sunday, Nov. 10: Morning—The Responsibility of the Church for the Salvation of the Lost. (Ezekiel 33.) Evening—The Twentieth Century National Gospel Campaign. Shall we join in this great movement to win our country for Christ?

Monday, Nov. 11: A day of humiliation and prayer, for Self-Examination and Intercession for the church. (Nehemiah 1; Daniel 9.)

Tuesday, Nov. 12: The Responsibility of Parents to Win Their Children to Christ. A plea for the restoration of the home altar and religious conversation in the home. (1 Kings 18:30-39; Deuteronomy 6:20-24; 1:18-21.)

Wednesday, Nov. 13: How Can We Win Our Sunday School Scholars and the Young People of Our Churches to Christ? Special consideration to be given to young men, with special prayer for the work of the Young Men's Christian Association, now holding their week of prayer. (Deuteronomy 31:12-13; Hebrews 11:24-26; 1 John 1:24.)

Thursday, Nov. 14: The Christian's Personal Responsibility to Win His Immediate Friends and Neighbors to Christ. How may business and social influences be used for Christ? (John 3:1-18.)

Friday, Nov. 15: How Can the Church and Individual Christians Win to Christ Those That Have Practically No Interest in Religion and No Sympathy With the Church? (Luke 14:16-24.)

In order to further promote this great movement in the churches of Christ we shall be deeply grateful to all friends who may be so kind as to advise us of their co-operation with us in the work proposed in this appeal. We shall be glad to furnish further suggestions for the advancement of the campaign to all friends who may request same. Yours in the Common Faith.

WM. PHILLIPS HALL, Chairman. In connection with this appeal the central committee announces that it will hold three noonday prayer meetings daily in New York for the coming month, at which special prayers will be made for a national gospel awakening. Friends of the movement are also asked to send special requests for prayers to the National Central Committee, 44 Broad Street, New York, and also to circulate this notice in the smaller towns and villages of the country, many of which the committee has been unable to reach direct. Some of the foremost ministers and laymen in the country are connected with the campaign and practically all denominations are represented by them.

LONGS TO SEE ROOSEVELT.

Preacher Who Married President's Parents Await Visit to Georgia.

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 21.—President Roosevelt's proposed visit to the house of his mother's girlhood at Roswell, Ga., is eagerly looked forward to by a distinguished South Carolina preacher, Rev. B. Dunwoody, who forty-eight years ago united the President's parents in marriage. Mr. Dunwoody is perhaps the oldest Presbyterian minister in South Carolina, both as to years and time of service, and is besides the President's cousin. Although the President's parents were married in Georgia, the record of the event is to be found in South Carolina. Here it is, as copied from the register in the Presbyterian church at McPhersonville, the handwriting being that of Mr. Dunwoody:

"Married—At Roswell, Ga., Dec. 18, 1853, Theodore Roosevelt of New York City to Miss Martha Bulloch of Roswell."

Two of President Roosevelt's uncles were prominent in the Confederate navy. Irvine Bulloch was on the Alabama when she was sunk by the Kearsarge, while James Dunwoody Bulloch was the naval representative of the Confederate states in Europe.

Jumping Horse Rider Is Hurt.

Mexico, Mo., Oct. 21.—Tom Bass, owner and rider of a string of well-known horses which are billed for the Kansas City and St. Louis shows, was seriously, if not fatally, hurt at the fair grounds here while training the celebrated high jumper Columbus. The horse turned a somersault and fell with his weight on the rider.

Jointists Sent to Jail.

Winfield, Kan., Oct. 21.—Two jointists, Charles and "Doc" Lindsay, were convicted in the police court of selling liquor on forty counts. They were sentenced to six months in jail and fined $100 on each count. This will mean twenty years in jail and a fine of $4,000.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. A course of treatment by the method of the Catarrh Cure, which is a natural condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When the tube gets inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness cured by catarrh that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

FURROWS ON THE FARM.

Someone has said that an apple given to a cow when milking will cause her to forget her habit of holding her milk and she will "give down" all right. I am a little skeptical about this although I have never given it a trial. Some cows seem determined to hold their milk, let come what may. Apples at the price they are now would cost about what the milk is worth. In many instances, feeding a cow apples may get her into the habit of producing apple butter from the cream and a great many people would not like this. Cow feed is a good thing to make a cow give down, but it will avail little if not fed to the cow when milking takes place.

The evenings are now much longer than they were and we eat supper by lamplight. There will be more time for reading, thinking and laying plans than at any other season of the year. After a while the weather will be cold and there will be still more time for reading.

Oh, the demand for cotton flannel in corn husking time! There is also a demand for plenty of everything good to eat. Corn huskers like to have plenty of everything good to eat. Corn huskers like to have plenty of that which is necessary to supply the waste material that is fast escaping in every corn husker who is going at a hundred bushel gait. I know of a few fellows who can't get up quite that speed. Some of them can't husk more than about one-half that amount, and they make just as much of an inroad on the commissary stores as the hundred bushel husker. There's a moral to this.

Horses are worth too much these days to let the colts get a blemish by a little carelessness. Enough blemishes will come when good care is bestowed to say nothing of that coming from opposite conditions. It is a mistaken idea that exposure makes hardy horses. Some claim they are making the colts tough by exposure. This is a tough way of bringing about this characteristic, and would be more becoming the tough than the average farmer.

The oleomargarine fellows are getting a black eye as they should. If manufacturers had been content with placing their product on the market for what it really is, they would be free from complications that have come up to the detriment of what they feel is a legitimate business. But instead they want to imitate butter in as many ways as possible and then they want to sell it as such. What vast sums of money could have been saved from "influencing" legislation. Let it be remembered that all the conflict has been the fault of the oleo man.

Nearly every year some farmer runs up against a poor stand of grass. Sometimes the poor stand is occasioned by poor seed, poor soil, weedy or stony ground or an insufficient amount of seed. Again it is due to drought or kindred conditions. As a rule too little time is taken to prepare the soil for grass seed. Some use a pinch of seed, the same amount of fertilizer and an equivalent of judgment in the sowing. Get down to the facts and then follow them to a letter.

As the years go by it is a pleasure to note an increase in ice houses. When I was a boy ice was shipped to a small town near where I lived in a box packed in sawdust and I was at a loss to know how it could be kept until July. It was a mystery to me then and it is still a mystery to some people. There is a feeling that there is some peculiar thing connected with the storing of ice that all cannot understand.

Grape juice is not wine unless it is fermented. The pure juice of the grape in its unfermented state is one of the best agents of temperance known. Making unfermented wine and canning it so it will not spoil is getting to be a good business and many are finding out what it is. I believe it was this kind Timothy was admonished to take for his stomach's sake. Timothy was a good man and so was Paul, who gave the advice, and they believed in grape juice. I have no use whatever for the fermented juice of the grape. I would treat it as if it were the deadliest serpent.

According to the old saying we are to have but very little snow the coming winter. An old sled manufacturer always observed the weather during the month of September. If, after each rain in September, the weather turned off cold and disagreeable, he manufactured a lot of sleds for the next winter. If the weather turned off warm after each rain in that month he would make but few sleds. He says it has not failed for forty years. How was it at your place, dear reader?

Green things are sometimes all right. A man who has green window blinds to his house and no green in his pastures, is verdant. Too much green corn for hogs early in the season is another green thing that is not conducive of bringing in greenbacks. It is not regarded as a green trick to do things up brown at any season of the year, but some fellows get green with envy at those who do it. It is too late for green apples, and a green boy, but sometimes the green boy is able to throw apples at the boy who is not so green. Green apples and green corn will not keep company with green hay. Avoid being green.

In order to keep abreast of the times, the farmer and stock grower must do some thinking. One of the best ways to learn things is by practical experience, but this may be combined with theoretical knowledge in such a way as to get the most good out of what we plan and do. Should all efforts be theories we will be a people of dreamers; should all be practice, without theory, we will become drudges. Many a man is doing fairly good work, when a better knowledge of the various parts would admit of doing excellent work. There are plenty of average men engaged in all kinds of business and what is most needed are the excellent workers. Study and work go together. —Wisconsin Farmer.

SEASONABLE HINTS.

Guard Your Health in Fall and Early Winter.

A change from warm to cold is always attended with more danger than from a cold to a warm temperature, hence the greater mortality from lung and throat diseases at this season of the year as compared with spring.

The best protection against colds not so much in extra clothing as in good digestion.

If the digestion and circulation are good colds will be unknown.

Poor digestion causes poor circulation of the blood and when in this condition severe colds are contracted on the slightest provocation.

People who make a regular practice of taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after meals are free from colds, simply because their digestion is perfect, the heart strong and regular, and the whole system fortified against disease.

It requires little argument to convince anyone that the best safeguard against colds, pneumonia and change of temperature is a good stomach. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets taken after meals are dissolved and mingling with the food cause it to be promptly digested and assimilated; they do this because they contain nothing but harmless digestive elements, which digest meat, eggs and other food even when the stomach itself is weak and flaccid.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets make people well and keep them well, and the best habit you can acquire is to keep daily use of them at meals to make the digestive organs strong and vigorous.

Two Light Keepers Drowned. Cross Village, Mich., Oct. 21.—Two men in charge of the famous Skillinallie light house at the entrance to the Straights of Mackinac were drowned by the upsetting of a boat used at the lighthouse to reach the mainland. Their names are Bourlaseau and Grubben. The latter's body was recovered.

Scrofula

THE OFFSPRING OF HEREDITARY BLOOD TAIN.

Scrofula is but a modified form of Blood Poison and Consumption. The parent who is tainted by either will see in the child the same disease manifesting itself in the form of swollen glands of the neck and throat, catarrh, weak eyes, offensive sores and sometimes white swelling—pure signs of Scrofula. There may be no external signs for a long time, for the disease develops slowly in some cases, but the poison is in the blood and will break out at the first favorable opportunity. S. S. S. cures this wasting, destructive disease by first purifying and building up the blood and stimulating and invigorating the whole system.

J. M. Reals, 115 Public Square, Nashville, Tenn., says: "Ten years ago my daughter fell and cut her forehead. From this wound the glands on the side of her face became swollen and burst. Some of the best doctors here and elsewhere attended her without any benefit. We decided to try S. S. S., and a few bottles cured her entirely."

SSS makes new and pure blood to nourish and strengthen the body, and is a positive and safe cure for Scrofula. It overcomes all forms of blood poison, whether inherited or acquired, and no remedy so thoroughly and effectively cleanses the blood. If you have any blood trouble, or your child has inherited some blood taint, take S. S. S. and get the blood in good condition and prevent the disease doing further damage.

Exonerates Asylum Officials. Chicago, Oct. 21.—A verdict exonerating the officials of the Kankakee insane asylum was rendered by the jury which sat in the inquest into the causes of the death of E. J. Colby, who expired at the asylum Oct. 8.—The jurors decided that the bruises on Colby's body did not cause his death, but that they were inflicted during his lifetime. It was urged, too, that such charges as were made by Colby's niece, Mrs. Frances Adam, should be investigated by the state board of charities, if investigated at all.

Federation Will Fight Injunctions. Chicago, Oct. 21.—"Judicial anarchy" was what the Chicago Federation of Labor, at its meeting, designated the recent decision of Judge Kohlhaas in the Allis-Chalmers injunction case. The executive board of the federation was authorized to secure the best legal talent procurable at once, the expense to be defrayed, by a pro rata assessment on the members of all affiliated unions. With these funds the case will be carried to the Supreme Court of the United States, if necessary.

Shot Sultor Kills Girl. Cleveland, O., Oct. 21.—Margaret De Holland, 21 years of age, was shot and almost instantly killed at her boarding-house, 133 Hamilton street, by Vernon Rogers, 35 years old, of 262 Scoville avenue. After firing three shots at the young woman Rogers turned the weapon upon himself and sent a bullet into his head. He will probably die. Miss De Holland had refused to marry Rogers and this led to the tragedy.

England to Have Largest Battleship. London, Oct. 21.—The admiralty has sent instructions to Davenport to prepare for the construction of a battleship larger than now existing. Her displacement will be 18,500 tons and her length 425 feet. She will be the first vessel of the King Edward class.

DUCKS ARE SCARCE AT KOSHKONONG

Although a few good good bags of canvas have been made at the lake this fall, the ducks are not there in numbers that warrant a person to expect to be able to make a big bag by going up for a day or two. The principal game bird at the lake just at present is the "mud hen." Hunters in pursuit of this fowl have chased and shot at them until they are nearly as wild and hard to get as the ducks. Yesterday from early morning until late at night the "hens" were chased and shot at until they were going in all directions and the noise made by the hunters reminded one of a small Fourth of July. The duck hunters were outclassed ten to one and sat in their blinds and on the shore and took life easy as none of them expected to kill any ducks while so much shooting was going on and their expectations in most cases were verified.

The continued warm weather is holding the bulk of the birds in the northern lakes and they will remain there until driven south by a storm. A large flight of birds came to the lake last Tuesday night and on Wednesday most of the hunters had fair sport but after staying a day or two they skipped out for other feeding grounds.

BLOCKED ACADEMY STREET CROSSING

The Belvidere freight on the Chicago & Northwestern blocked the Academy street crossing this morning from 10:22 to 10:42 holding a number of passengers anxious to take the St. Paul trains to Chicago and Madison and causing one young lady to miss her train. Judge Dunwiddie, M. G. Jeffris, F. C. Grant, Charles Moulter and others barely caught their train and would not have been in time if the passenger train had not been held for the U. S. mail which was on the south side of the tracks while some cars were switched onto the siding east of High street.

A number of the gentlemen were very indignant and said that they would lodge a complaint against the company for their reckless disregard of the ordinance and the rights of the people.

It is an almost daily occurrence that the crossings are blocked from ten to fifteen minutes at a stretch by long freight trains although the railroad companies are liable to a fine for holding them more than five minutes.

Destruction of Sea Fowl.

The investigation made by Prof. Beyer for the American Ornithological association of the Louisiana gulf coast for the purpose of stationing wardens to protect the sea birds shows that action was not taken a moment too soon. Prof. Beyer found that nearly all the breeding places of the birds had been destroyed by killing the birds themselves and taking their eggs. Not a trace of birds was found on several islands at one time the home of millions of sea fowl.

Dangers in Pins and Pencils.

Not only children but many grown-up persons have a trick of holding pins in their mouth, and of sucking the lead of their pencil to add to the facility of writing. Both habits are exceedingly dangerous, as well as inelegant. —Chicago News.

IN FOUR HUNDRED YEARS.

The World Will Be Overcrowded and Diseases Harmless.

There was a time when people died by the thousands when some pestilential disease came over the country. If any of the Biblical plagues made their appearance today there would be an invention to show them how vain they were. Yellow fever, cholera and small-pox used to kill thousands. Medical progress has made them as harmless as the whoopingcough and less troublesome. The population of the world has been increasing at a rapid rate in the past. What will it do when somebody has discovered something that will cure any disease? Some people advertise to do it now, though they are premature and probably lying. But in the laws of progress nothing is forbidden, and the statistician who has figured that the world will be crowded in twenty-three hundred and something will likely have occasion to change his figures before then. But there is no use worrying about it. When the world is overcrowded somebody will find a new world to meet the emergency. It's all very well to laugh at the reasoning and say impossible, but it wasn't so very long ago that people laughed "impossible" to the things we are doing today. Was it, now?—Utica Globe.

TOMB OF AN ANCIENT KING.

Objects of Archaeological Interest Unearthed in Russia.

The grave of a king or chieftain who was buried at Seddin, in Russian West Prignitz, 3,000 years ago, has been carefully excavated and many bronze objects added to the provincial museum in consequence. There are beaten and cast bowls, iron pins, rings and knives of bronze, necklaces with enameled beads and bronze tubes and other objects belonging to the bronze age. About the large tumulus there had always hovered the tradition that a king was buried in a triple coffin. When examined it was found to conceal a nine-cornered vault made of large, erratic blocks of stone plastered with clay and painted with red pigment. In this rude tomb was a gigantic vase of pottery, and within the vase was a box of gilded bronze having a lid of the same metal, the box decorated with small knobs. The tradition said three coffins and proved correct. In the box were the remains of a man 30 or 40 years old, whose body had been burned. No inscription was found, and the only means of determining the age of the interment is the style of bronze objects and vase. German antiquarians believe that it belongs to a very early Teutonic race in northern Germany which practiced cremation, a race that was succeeded by a Slavic people, who in turn were driven out very generally by the modern German tribes. It is not a little remarkable that the farming population of Prussia is tending again to Slavs. The German speaking people are emigrating or moving into the cities and manufacturing towns.

How to Quit Chewing Tobacco.

The "substitute cure" is worthy of the attention of sufferers. We have a citizen of Mobile who has tried it. He was an inveterate chewer of tobacco. He stopped chewing and took to chewing a pine stick. He always has this bit of wood between his teeth, in waking hours, at least. He has not tasted tobacco in many years. —Mobile Register.
